GROWING YOUR SAVINGS

Saving under the Self-Employed Scheme

The Self-Employed Scheme encourages self-employed persons (SEPs) to save for retirement and healthcare needs, in the absence of regular MediSave contributions from an employer.

Make your MediSave contributions today

You can request an instalment plan, make contributions on your outstanding MediSave payable, or contribute to offset your future MediSave payable.

WHO IS AN SEP?

The definition of a self-employed person

If you are a person with your own business, work for yourself and are in the position to realise a business profit or loss, you are considered an SEP.

OBLIGATIONS

As a self-employed person, you have several obligations under the Self-Employed Scheme.

Declare your Net Trade Income (NTI)

How to declare your income?

All Net Trade Income (NTI)[1] declarations can be made with the Inland Revenue Authority of Singapore (IRAS) by filing a tax return. There is no need to file separate declarations with CPF Board.

When IRAS has completed the income assessment for the year, you will receive a notice of CPF contributions for self-employed persons from CPF Board informing you of your MediSave payable. You will be able to view your digital notice on the self-employment dashboard after logging in with your Singpass.

[1] NTI is your gross trade income minus all allowable business expenses, capital allowances and trade losses as determined by IRAS.

Make MediSave

How much to contribute to your MediSave?

contributions

Your MediSave contribution is computed based on your age and NTI, as assessed by the IRAS or declared to CPF Board.

When to contribute to your MediSave?

Your MediSave contribution is due 30 days from the date of issuance of the notice of CPF contributions for self-employed persons issued by CPF Board.

How to make your MediSave contributions?

You may request an instalment plan or make contributions to your MediSave via PayNow.

Contribute via the Manage your MediSave payable Form >

Wish to make MediSave contributions via GIRO?

You may sign up to make affordable monthly instalments through GIRO.

WHAT YOU CAN DO

Other things you can do under the Self-Employed Scheme

Hassle-free licence application/ renewal

Check your eligibility for licence application or renewal (if applicable).

If you're currently self-employed, you may apply for or renew your licence(s) if you have an active GIRO arrangement with CPF Board to settle your MediSave payable via monthly instalments or have fully settled your MediSave payable.

Ease your MediSave contributions with CAYE

Contribute As You Earn (CAYE) helps SEPs contribute to their MediSave as they earn when their Corporate Service Buyers make payment to them.

More on CAYE >

Make MediSave contributions in advance

If you do not have outstanding MediSave contributions, you can make MediSave contributions for future work years in advance and earn interest on your MediSave savings earlier.

BENEFITS

What additional benefits can you receive as a self-employed person?

Eligible SEPs can also receive benefits when they contribute to their MediSave Account.

Tax relief

You can enjoy tax relief on your mandatory and voluntary contributions based on whichever is lower:

- 37% of assessable income; or
- CPF Annual Limit of $37,740; or
- Actual amount contributed by you

Workfare Income Supplement (WIS)

Lower-wage SEPs may qualify for the Workfare Income Supplement (WIS) scheme.

More on WIS >

Co-contribution scheme

SEPs who are part of the Drive and Save (DAS) scheme can receive up to $20 monthly co-contribution.

More on DAS >

There is no tax relief for your mandatory or voluntary CPF contributions if your assessed NTI for the year of assessment is zero or negative.
