HEALTHCARE FINANCING

Using your MediSave savings for yourself and loved ones

Learn how MediSave can help you with your healthcare expenses.

ABOUT

What is MediSave

Your personal healthcare savings account

When you're working, you save between 8% and 10.5% of your monthly salary in your MediSave.

This helps you pay for your healthcare expenses over your lifetime, especially when you retire and no longer have a regular income.

Basic Healthcare Sum (BHS)

Your BHS is the estimated amount of savings you need for basic subsidised healthcare expenses in old age. It is the maximum amount you can have in your MediSave.

Your BHS is adjusted yearly until you reach the age of 65 and will remain fixed for the rest of your life.

Learn more >

ELIGIBILITY

Caring for yourself and your loved ones

MediSave can be used for your medical expenses and those of your loved ones.

Who can benefit from your MediSave

You can use your MediSave for yourself or your family members. This includes your spouse, children, parents, grandparents, or siblings.

They can be of any nationality, except for grandparents and siblings, who must be Singapore Citizens or Permanent Residents.

BENEFITS

MediSave helps you pay for a variety of medical expenses

Outpatient treatments

Outpatient care

MediSave can help you pay for selected outpatient treatments, such as:

- Management of chronic diseases
- Vaccinations
- Health screenings

- CT/MRI scans

Learn more >

Hospitalisation

Inpatient care

MediSave can help you cover the costs of your hospitalisation and day surgery expenses.

Learn more >

Long-term care

Rehabilitation

MediSave can be used to cover the costs of rehabilitative care, if you're:

- An inpatient at an approved community hospital (for $250 per day)
- An inpatient at an approved convalescent hospital (for $50 per day, up to $3,000 per annum)
- An outpatient at a day rehabilitation centre (for $25 per day per rehabilitation service, up to $1,500 per annum)
- An outpatient at an approved day hospital (for $150 per day, up to $3,000 per annum)

Palliative care

MediSave can be used to pay for palliative care at:

- Inpatient palliative care in approved inpatient hospice palliative care services (IHPCS) (up to $250 per day for general palliative care and up to $350 per day for specialised palliative care)
- Home palliative and day hospice care. If you are terminally ill, there is no withdrawal limit if you are using your own MediSave to pay the bill. You may also tap on your family member's MediSave for payment, up to a withdrawal limit of $2,500 per patient per lifetime.

Disability care

Under MediSave Care, you can withdraw up to $200 per month from your and/or your spouse's MediSave, if you're aged 30 and above with severe disability.

A minimum of $5,000 will need to be set aside in MediSave.

Learn more >

Insurance premiums

MediShield Life

MediSave can be used to pay for MediShield Life insurance premiums, which will help to cover large hospital bills and selected costly outpatient treatments.

Learn more >

Integrated Shield Plans

You can use MediSave to pay the insurance premiums of your Integrated Shield Plans, which supplement your plan coverage.

Learn more >

ElderShield

If you're covered under ElderShield, you can use your MediSave to pay your premiums. ElderShield provides payouts for your long-term care needs in the event of severe disability.

Learn more >

CareShield Life

Use your MediSave to pay for your CareShield Life premiums. The scheme offers payouts for your long-term care needs in the event of severe disability.

Learn more >

WHAT TO CONSIDER

Where can you use MediSave

For a list of MediSave-approved clinics under the MediSave500/700 scheme, please visit the Community Health Assist Scheme (CHAS) webpage.

You can use your MediSave at all public healthcare institutions and participating medical institutions (MIs).

Medical institutions (PDF, 0.4MB) >

Public institutions

This includes:

- Public hospitals, including Specialist Outpatient Clinics (SOCs)
- National specialty centres
- Polyclinics

Participating medical institutions

MediSave-accredited non-public healthcare institutions, such as:

- General practitioner (GP) clinics
- Private hospitals and specialist clinics
- Community hospitals
- Day rehabilitation centres
- Specialist Outpatient Clinic (SOCs)
- Palliative care providers

Choose the ward type that best meets your budget

Learn how much you need to pay in cash for each hospitalisation

Find out more >

APPLICATION

Learn how to authorise the use of your MediSave or get reimbursed

Using MediSave to pay for your medical fees

Firstly, inform the medical institution that you would like to use your MediSave. Then, follow the required process.

How to apply >

Getting reimbursed for your medical expenses

Have you already paid and are looking to be reimbursed? Find out how to make a claim.

Learn more >

RESOURCES

Need more information?

MediSave and MediShield Life claims calculator

Estimate how much you can withdraw from MediSave and/or claim from MediShield Life.

Show all

FAQS

Common questions

Can I use my MediSave for my maternity expenses?

How can I retrieve my healthcare payments and claims statement online?

What are the options for me if my subsidised bill is not fully covered by MediShield Life and MediSave?

View all

ARTICLES

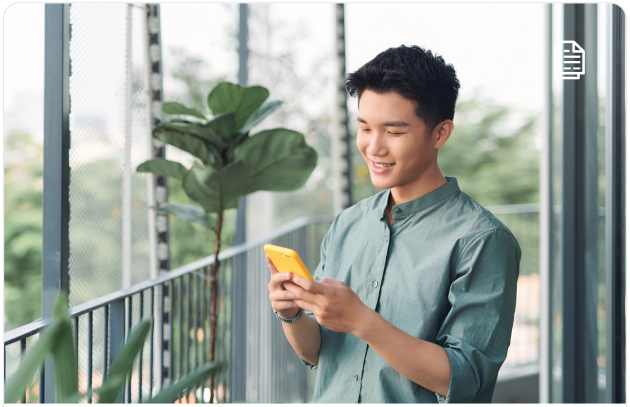
Related Reads

Learn More

HEALTHCARE

How MediSave can help with your healthcare expenses

Find out more about the uses of MediSave and how you can tap on it for your medical expenses.



HEALTHCARE

What to know when buying an Integrated Shield Plan (IP)

If you're considering hospitalisation insurance, here's what you should consider before deciding on an Integrated Shield Plan.

HEALTHCARE

Staying covered for healthcare expenses with MediShield Life

Understand how MediShield Life protects you against large hospital bills for a greater peace of mind.

03 Feb 2024 • 10 minute read

12 Jan 2024 • 6 minute read

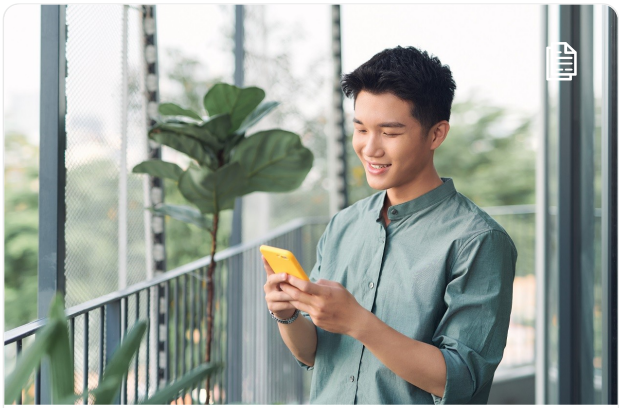
17 Oct 2024 • 5 minute read

HEALTHCARE

How MediSave can help with your healthcare expenses

Find out more about the uses of MediSave and how you can tap on it for your medical expenses.

03 Feb 2024 • 10 minute read



HEALTHCARE

What to know when buying an Integrated Shield Plan (IP)

If you're considering hospitalisation insurance, here's what you should consider before deciding on an Integrated Shield Plan.

12 Jan 2024 • 6 minute read

HEALTHCARE

Staying covered for healthcare expenses with MediShield Life

Understand how MediShield Life protects you against large hospital bills for a greater peace of mind.

17 Oct 2024 • 5 minute read

View all >