GROWING YOUR SAVINGS

Make a voluntary housing refund before selling your property

Take advantage of CPF's interest when you make a voluntary housing refund of the Ordinary Account (OA) savings used for your property. You will need to refund less and get to receive more cash proceeds when selling your property.

ELIGIBILITY

Who is it for?

You can make a voluntary housing refund if you've used your Ordinary Account (OA) savings for your property.

Check OA usage >

BENEFITS

Lesser OA usage, More for retirement

Less amount needs to be refunded to your CPF savings when selling your property.

The earlier you refund your CPF savings, the less you'll need to refund upon the sale or transfer of the property.

Keep in mind that the mandatory amount to refund includes funds used to pay for the property and any interest you would've earned if the funds had remained in your CPF account.

Retire with more

Take advantage of CPF's interest rates. The more voluntary housing refunds you make, the greater the CPF savings you have to prepare for retirement.

Re-use CPF savings

You can use your refunded CPF savings for the various CPF approved schemes if needed.
